

Black tubing for fiber optic cables

Preview

Furcation tubing, also commonly referred to as jacketing, is used to protect delicate optical fiber from damage. The color of tubing is typically chosen to represent the type of fiber patch cable. Multiple inner tube materials choices allow for smooth and easy fiber insertion while maintaining the integrity required for robust connectorization. Know what furcation. Understanding fiber-optic color codes is essential for any technician tasked with installing, maintaining, or troubleshooting modern fiber networks. By adopting the TIA/EIA-598C standard, you gain a universal "language" of colors that speeds identification, reduces miswiring, and enhances safety.
