

Jamaican manufacturer selling melt fiber trays

Article Overview

VF Packaging Limited in Jamaica offers durable, recyclable molded fiber trays as a sustainable alternative to styrofoam.

Key Jamaican Suppliers

VF Packaging Limited is a leading Caribbean packaging manufacturer specializing in sustainable solutions, including molded fiber trays. Their trays are designed to be durable, attractive, and recyclable, suitable for food service, baking, and agricultural applications. They provide options for both wholesale and retail clients, emphasizing functionality and product presentation while reducing environmental impact . PennFlo Imports Limited is a Jamaican distributor and importer of food service products, serving the entire island. While primarily a distributor, they offer a variety of trays and packaging solutions that may include molded fiber options, catering to businesses seeking competitive pricing and reliable service . The Packaging House (Succ) Ltd supplies a wide range of packaging materials and equipment in Jamaica, including trays for food and industrial use. They combine local expertise with competitive pricing and technical support, making them a strong option for businesses needing molded fiber or other sustainable tray solutions .

Considerations for Choosing a Supplier

- o Sustainability: Molded fiber trays are eco-friendly alternatives to plastic or styrofoam.
- o Durability: Ensure the trays meet your handling and transport requirements.
- o Customization: Some suppliers offer custom sizes or designs for branding or specific food service needs.
- o Bulk Availability: Check if the supplier can meet your volume requirements. For businesses in Jamaica seeking molded fiber trays, VF Packaging Limited is the most prominent manufacturer, while PennFlo Imports and The Packaging House provide additional distribution and supply options. Contacting these companies directly will help secure pricing, product specifications, and delivery options.
