Recommendations

- o For small projects, pre-terminated cables from FS or Fiber Cables Direct offer convenience and predictable pricing.
- o For large-scale deployments, contacting manufacturers directly (Riteoptic, Wolon) can secure custom designs, bulk pricing, and faster lead times.
- o Always verify outdoor durability, water and corrosion resistance, and certifications to ensure long-term reliability in harsh environments. By considering fiber count, length, jacket type, and connector configuration, you can select a customized outdoor optical cable that balances performance and cost for your specific application.
