

Article Overview

Cable tray cover plate prices in Venezuela vary depending on material, size, and supplier, with aluminum and stainless steel options being the most common.

Overview

Cable tray cover plates are used to protect and organize electrical cables in industrial and commercial installations. In Venezuela, these cover plates are typically made from aluminum, galvanized steel, or fireproof stainless steel, with dimensions and thicknesses varying according to the tray system and load requirements. Standard lengths range from 240 cm to 300 cm, and widths from 15 cm to 60 cm, with nominal depths of 7.5 cm to 10 cm.

Pricing Factors

The cost of a cable tray cover plate depends on several factors:

- o Material: Aluminum is generally more affordable, while stainless steel, especially fireproof variants, commands higher prices.
- o Dimensions: Wider and longer plates cost more due to increased material usage.
- o Thickness: Thicker plates designed for higher load capacities are more expensive.
- o Supplier and Quantity: Bulk orders often reduce the per-unit cost, and prices may vary between local distributors and international suppliers.

Approximate Price References

While specific Venezuelan prices are not publicly listed online, international references suggest:

- o Aluminum cover plates: Typically lower cost, often priced per meter or per piece depending on width and thickness.
- o Fireproof stainless steel cover plates: Higher cost due to material and fireproofing, with bulk buyers seeking quotes directly from suppliers. For comparison, similar coupler plates in India are priced around 16-30 INR per piece for standard sizes, which can provide a rough benchmark for small-scale estimation, though Venezuelan prices may differ significantly due to local market conditions, import costs, and currency fluctuations.
