

Article Overview

Vietnam has specialized manufacturers and technical support for Active Optical Cables (AOC) and Linear Pluggable Optics (LPO), including high-speed data communication solutions for data centers and telecom networks.

Key Manufacturers and Support Providers

1. Vietnamese AOC Manufacturer (Ho Chi Minh City) A local early-growth microelectronics company, established in 2017, focuses on ultra-high-speed Active Optical Cables and outsourced semiconductor assembly/testing. They produce over 10,000 products per month and have delivered approximately 150,000 units to clients globally. Their product lineup includes HDMI, USB, DisplayPort, SFP/QSFP, and SiC Power Modules, supporting data center, telecom, and automotive applications. The company offers CM+OEM/ODM services, enabling flexible production for high-mix, high-volume orders, and provides technical support for installation and product integration . 2. Viet Fiber Viet Fiber specializes in fiber optic and copper structured cabling solutions. They provide technical support for product selection, order assistance, and troubleshooting, with full vertical integration ensuring quality control and fast delivery. Their expertise includes data center connectivity solutions, making them a reliable partner for LPO and AOC deployment in Vietnam . 3. LS Cable & System Vietnam LSCV offers a wide range of fiber optic cables, overhead and underground optical cables, and optical connection materials. They provide technical guidance for installation, maintenance, and network optimization, including solutions for FTTH networks and high-speed telecommunication systems. Their products are suitable for both commercial and industrial applications, and they have extensive experience in Vietnamese and international markets .

Technical Support Services

- o Product Selection Assistance: Guidance on choosing the right AOC or LPO type for specific network requirements.
- o Installation Support: Recommendations for proper cabling, routing, and connection to minimize signal loss.
- o Troubleshooting: Assistance with connectivity issues, signal integrity, and compatibility with existing network equipment.
- o OEM/ODM Customization: Tailored solutions for high-volume or specialized applications, including data center and telecom deployments.
